Short Stories OF THE TOWN

Held in District Court. Justice Smith, judge, was assigned before Judge T. P. Moore this morning on charges of burglary and larceny from a railway car and held in answer to the district court in bonds in the sum of $1,000. In default of same Smith was remanded to the county jail.

Col. Watson Here. Col. A. F. Watson, former member of the state corporation commission and removed by impeachment, was in the city last evening. He is a candidate for re-election and stated that he would speak in Chickasha next Monday. Col. Watson was the guest of his brother-in-law, T. W. Perkins, while here.

Visited Parents. W. E. Moore has returned to his home in Oklahoma City, following a pleasant brief visit with his parents, Judge and Mrs. T. P. Moore, of Chickasha. Mr. Moore formerly owned and conducted Moore's Garment shop in this city, but is now engaged in the mercantile business in the capital city.

Kelley an "Ex." Dan Kelley, one of the alleged burglars of Clyde Mattar's pool hall, who escaped from the police officers at an early hour this morning, is an ex-convict, having been released from the Granite penitentiary only five months ago. Kelley was sent to Granite from this county for complicity in the burglarizing of the Public Drug store some years ago.

Small Fire in Barn. Number two station of the Chickasha fire department was called this morning to 925 South Ninth street, where a barn belonging to L. W. Hawley was on fire. The alarm was turned in at 9:48. The fire is thought to have originated from sparks from the pipe of a palmer who had been at work on the building. The damage amounted to about $150 with no insurance.

Telegram Announces Wedding. A telegram from Pine Bluff, Ark., was received here Friday announcing the marriage of Lamar Mosley and Miss Clyde Dixon, which occurred in that city at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. Mr. Mosley has resigned his position with the Magnolia Oil Co. and accepted a traveling position for his father-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Mosley are located at 1112 Beach St., Pine Bluff, Ark. They expect to visit Chickasha some time in July.

"Two" Street Blossoms. "For the first time in the history of the city," said Mayor Coffman this morning, "two" street is clean. When the special officer went forth upon his rounds of warning to clean up he met with a hearty welcome everywhere and everyone. I am glad to say, responded to the clean-up movement with a most hearty co-operation. No where has this spirit of co-operation been more in evidence than it has in the southeastern section of the city. Mayor Coffman says that the manner in which all sanitary conditions, as asked by himself and the sanitary officer, have been observed is most pleasing and he feels that he can soon say "Chickasha is one of the most sanitary towns in Oklahoma."

A SYMPATHETIC WOMAN

Who has herself found relief from suffering is usually willing to offer helpful suggestions to her friends and neighbors who suffer likewise. That is the reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has today such an immense sale. It is bought because all over this country well women are telling other women how this wonderful medicine made them well.—Adv.

Properly Indignant. Son (enthusiastically)—"Yes, father, I have fully made up my mind to adopt music as a career. I feel it is the only one in which my soul can find its full expansion." Father (indignantly)—"Very well, sir; if you will persist in your evil courses, instead of following your father in an honest hardware business, let me tell you that, when you have reached the height of your ambition, you needn't come pining before my door expecting to get any coppers."—London Mail.

Just Go Ahead. One does not need a formal introduction to put one in the way of doing a charitable act.

BUSINESS BRISK IN POLICE COURT

Three looked like old times in police court this morning when Mayor Coffman presided after the first sitting with almost $100 in cash with a couple of cases taken under advisement. Delinquents white and delinquents black were all before his honor to answer various charges.

The cash bonds of Pete Palk, John Hayes, Bill Sharpe, charged with disturbing the peace, were forfeited, the defendants having failed to appear. The bonds were in the sum of $10 each in each case.

Two plain drunks were fined $5 each; one motorcycle speeder, John LaBoon, was fined $5, while the cases against Claude Crisp and John Rodgers, charged with speed mania, were continued to the 4 o'clock session of the court this afternoon.

Paid His Cook Out. Helen Hall, colored, was charged with fighting another woman of her own race. The fight came about through an argument as to which of the two was the owner of a brunette gentleman friend. Helen was fined $5 and Ad Melton appeared in court and stating that the defendant was the cook at his home paid her fine. Mary Thompson, with whom Helen had swapped argument and blows, was next to the bar and drew down a bomb run worth $1.

The bonds of Dan Sullivan and Margie Smith, charged with disturbing the peace, each bond in the sum of $10, were forfeited.

Co's Goss on Warpath. Sam Cobb, the barber, was the next to the bar. Sam was charged by the complaining witness, John Sharpe, with having assaulted him, used violent and profane language toward him and called him bad and unseemly names.

Sam's witnesses swore that Sharpe had first made remarks derogatory to the defendant; that the porter in Sam's shop had told him of these remarks; that Sam had then approached the complainant and in gentle tones and accents mild invited him, the said complainant to repair to a sequestered spot in some quiet back alley and "light it out like a man;" that Sam had struck the complainant a light blow in attempting to ward off a blow which Sam thought the complainant was about to deliver.

After hearing all the testimony in the case Judge Coffman announced that he would take the matter under advisement and render his opinion at an early date. In the meanwhile the defendant was released upon his own recognizance.

Tommy in Bad. Tommy Clark alias Tommy the Trump, celebrated his release from

NATURAL GROWTH TOO SLOW

Modern Cities Not Satisfied Unless They Expand in Size by Leaps and Bounds.

A metropolis grows up in two ways. At first it expands legitimately, adding further to former growth. Then it leaps forward and seizes a large area overnight by act of legislature or parliament, sweeping into its net a score of villages and settlements. Then it proceeds to consolidate its position, as General Joffre might say, by filling up the intervening spaces. In European cities they have an inner ring which is the old city, and an outer ring, which may be anything. New York, Chicago, Boston and Seattle have their inner rings which are the legitimate city, and the outer ring which came by the get-big-quick method. New York succumbed to the promoter's fever in 1898. In that year the city absorbed large areas of virgin soil and a chain of independent villages, some of them nearly as old as Manhattan itself. From the sound to the Atlantic they stretch across the backbone of Long Island and the lower harbor of Staten Island, where the local tradition, in spite of municipal ferries and promised tunnels, has remained at its strongest.

Such frenzied expansion is the reason why the traveler in the nearest suburbs of a great city will often come across a city line which is no longer the city line. As you near the old city line from the heart of population the solid blocks of apartments and flats thin out. There follow stretches of waste land, market gardens, cemeteries. It is across this zone between the old and new city lines that the transit railways throw their surface lines and elevated "extensions," and close behind them are the builders, criss-crossing the raw acres with their long lines of "frame" and brick.—Harpers Magazine.

GAME WARDEN OF THE GULF

Captain Sprinkle of the Royal Tern is an Efficient Protector of Bird Life.

The Royal Tern, a boat which is the property of the Audubon society, is commanded by Capt. William Sprinkle, born and bred on this Gulf coast, who knows the sea, food, and the islands where they breed and dwell, as he knows the winds and the lovely smiling, treacherous gulf waters. He is game warden and he and the Royal Tern are the police force of more than five hundred square miles of sandbars, shallow waters and intricate channels. The man and the boat are two of the chief obstacles in the way of the poachers, the plume hunters and eggers, who always threaten these bird sanctuaries.

Meeting Fortune's Changes

Marked change of fortune means the introduction into life of new perils, new tests. Only those can meet these tests and perils who under all circumstances possess a serene mind and a just consciousness of their true relation that enables them to achieve happiness under all circumstances.

MARKETS

Table with market prices for Chickasha Grain Today, Wheat No. 2 milling, Corn, white, ear, etc.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, May 29.—Breaking of the dry weather in Kansas and Oklahoma resulted Monday in lower prices for wheat. The market closed unsettled, but 1-8c to 1-16c and 1-16c down, with July at $1.07 1/4 and September at $1.08 3/4 to $1.09. Corn gained 1-2c to 1-4c, oats finished 1-4c to 1/8c off, and provisions at latest trading from 1-12c to 1/8c.

New York Cotton

New York, May 29.—The cotton market was very quiet Monday and prices fluctuated within a range of ten points. Tomorrow will be a holiday here, while Liverpool and New Orleans will remain open for business as usual and trading here was considered chiefly in the way of evening up weathering contracts. October contracts sold at 12-1/2c early but rallied to 12-3/4c and closed at 12-3/4c with the general list closing steady, net unchanged to two points higher.
